Benefizio 2001

Pomino Bianco Riserva DOC

Benefizio Riserva is the embodiment of the history of Chardonnay in Tuscany, since this grape was introduced on this Tenuta in 1855. In 1878, Pomino was awarded the Gold Medal at the Paris Exposition for the high quality of its wines, in 1973, a vineyard at 700 metres' elevation produced Benefizio, the first white wine in Italy be barrel-fermented, and in 2005 that wine became Benefizio Riserva.

Climatic trend

The season was very favourable at Pomino. Compared with the other estates, Pomino was less affected by the frost in the spring, while the decline in production for the year was around 10%. With the vineyards located between 400 and 700 meters above sea level, Pomino did not experience any major decreases in production. Thus, the cold temperatures had an impact mainly on lower altitudes. Rainfall during the first ten days of August was a welcome end to the dry summer heat. The grapes appear to be robust and of excellent quality. The harvest of the red grapes took longer than planned. Given the favourable climatic conditions, the berries were left to mature on the vine with significant benefits in terms of the quality at the time of harvest. The Chardonnay is of an appreciable quality, with well balanced sugar and PH levels.
