Chianti DOCG

I Leccioni Chianti DOCG is a soft, rounded wine. It has typical aromas of sweet violet and small red fruit. In the mouth it is balanced with medium body and measured tannins evened out by the correct level of acidity.

Climatic trend

In Spring 2020, the vines began sprouting in early April, earlier than the previous year by a few days. Spring continued with no temperature fluctuations and a few light showers, and was followed by a breezy summer. When it came time to harvest the grapes, they were perfectly ripe and of exceptional quality.

Technical notes

Wine Variety: mostly Sangiovese
Alcohol content: 12.5%
Maturation: 5 months in stainless steel and 2 in the bottle

Tasting notes

Leccioni 2020 boasts a beautiful ruby-red colour with tinges of purple on the edge. The nose is floral and fruity, culminating in very delicate spiced aromas. Among the fruity notes, red and black berry, wild strawberry, blackcurrant and blueberry stand out perfectly. Notes of rose then emerge, accompanied by light hints of cloves and black pepper. The acid-alcohol balance is wonderful, the persistence is lovely and the taste and smell correspond beautifully.

Wine pairing: Fantastic paired with the classic Tuscan antipasto of assorted cured meats. Also good with thick vegetable soup or grilled red meat.
